Howard Memorial Hospital cares about your safety!

There's a new link on the Frank R. Howard Memorial Hospital website that informs our community about their healthcare. "We care about your safety!" is a short, five-minute video that can be accessed from HowardHospital.com that talks about some very important healthcare topics that people tend to avoid.

Near the bottom of the web page, visitors to the HMH site will see a light blue rectangle that when clicked on, will take you to this video. Topics include getting involved with your healthcare and speaking with your physician about your health conditions. It discusses the importance of informing your physician of medications you take and if you drink or smoke. There is also a friendly reminder to wash your hands often to reduce the spread germs.
